OXA Membership Background

Who: are the members of OXA?

OXA is an organization of business people whose sole purpose is to provide each other with business leads, referrals and direct business. Over the past decade, 75-95 businesses have been represented in OXA at any given time. Many OXA members have been part of the organization for more than 25 years, providing a strong foundation of members, with new members joining annually from a variety of different industries.

What: is OXA?

OXA is the Ottawa Executives' Association. OXA is not a service club or charitable organization. This unique business organization was founded in Ottawa in 1936. The OXA is also a Founding Member of the International Executives' Association, which is comprised of 85-95 Executives Associations from around the world.

What are the benefits of membership?

- As a member, you have the opportunity to associate with leading business firms and the people behind them. You gain a continuing acquaintance with these executives, their products and their services. Members discuss business formally throughout the year at regular weekly luncheon meetings. These business exchanges are confidential. Your membership in the Ottawa Executives' Association is purposeful in that you may gain strength over your competition. Fellow members often make pertinent business information known to you before others can hear about it. Also, your sales opportunities will expand to include others associated with member firms...employees, families and friends. Membership in OXA means business, and current members will attest to this.
- As you widen your circle of acquaintances with these key executives, there are many opportunities to explain your firm's operation to them. Each and every member in the Association is a promoter of your company. You can also learn new management, production, distribution and sales techniques, which may be valuable to you and your firm.

When:

Are there Obligations as a Member?

Yes. OXA meets weekly and attendance is mandatory. (Principal members must attend 19 of the 25 meetings in each 6-month period, with Alternate members representing them up at 6 of those 25 meetings to make up attendance if needed).

Why: is OXA Membership Referred to as "Exclusive"?

OXA's exclusivity lies in the fact that there is only one member firm for each business classification.

Each member firm is represented by its owner, CEO or key executive decision-maker, with direct influence in the firm's purchasing and selling powers. An approved associate may also represent the firm as an "Alternate" member, on a limited basis.

Members are not obliged to do business with each other but they are expected to seek pricing and tenders when products or services are needed. All things being equal, they are encouraged to do business with each other.

Where: are meetings held?

Weekly meetings are held at the Rideau Tennis Club, typically in a luncheon format. "On-site" meetings usually take place at member locations, showcasing their products and services. Special events are held at various locations. The location depends on the format or type of event.

How: to become A Member?

To join OXA, a firm must be sponsored by a current member and submit an application form along with a cheque for the initiation fee of $500. Upon receipt of the application form and cheque, the potential member firm/representative will then undergo an interview process, be approved by the Board of Directors and the general membership.

At the time of membership approval the member must provide the Executive Coordinator with valid credit card information that will be kept on file. Should payment for amounts due, not be received within 60 days of an invoice being issued, payment for the full amount of the invoice will be processed to the credit card on file and a receipt will be issued to the member.

*This process takes approximately 1 month –
Membership is not transferable*
